KIDS HEART CHALLENGE™

Working together means that everyone's ideas matter, but it can be hard to find a way to do something that makes everyone happy. Imagine your class is planning a party. What would you do and where would the party be? If two people wanted something really different (like one person wants to do puzzles and one wants to play soccer), how would you decide what to do? Imagine how you'd plan and celebrate at the party and write or draw all about it!
