

Hailey

Survivor

Before Hailey was born, doctors knew her heart would be different. She was born with five heart defects and had to have surgery just a few hours after birth. At two years old, she had another open-heart surgery to replace her heart valve. Everyone was hopeful Hailey would feel better, but her heart rejected the valve and the procedures to fix it did not work. Hailey hopes that her story can inspire others to support Kids Heart Challenge/American Heart Challenge because her future depends on medical advancements.

The Kids Heart Challenge and American Heart Challenge funds research that helps kids have longer and stronger lives. Your support helps families have hope and for that they are so grateful.

Together, we are creating a world of longer, healthier lives.
