HEART HERO

Jordan

Survivor, 10th Grade

Jordan thought he would never be able to play his favorite sport again, but he is a survivor! While playing in a football game last year, Jordan went into cardiac arrest and later discovered that he had hypertrophic cardiomyopathy. Jordan wants people to know that without an AED and the lifesaving procedure of CPR, he would not be alive today. Jordan has now been cleared to play baseball and football again and is excited to share that the work of the American Heart Association helped save his life.
